

Despite the emergence of Omicron, 70% of Kiwis remain keen to see the border reopen now

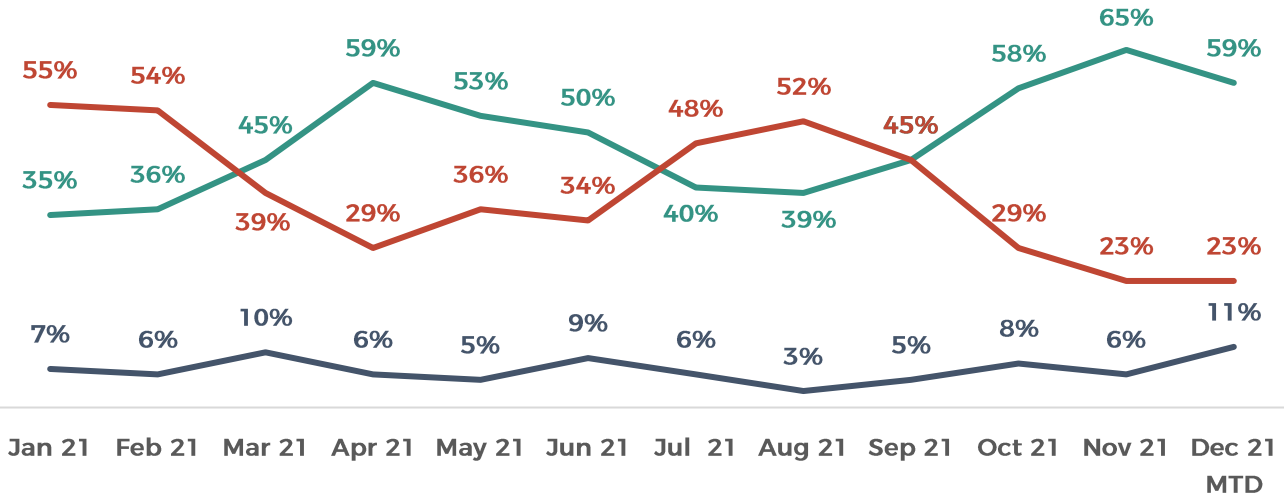

Reopen border to international visitors with appropriate health measures in place

Keep the border closed to all international visitors

Reopen border to international visitors with no restrictions in place

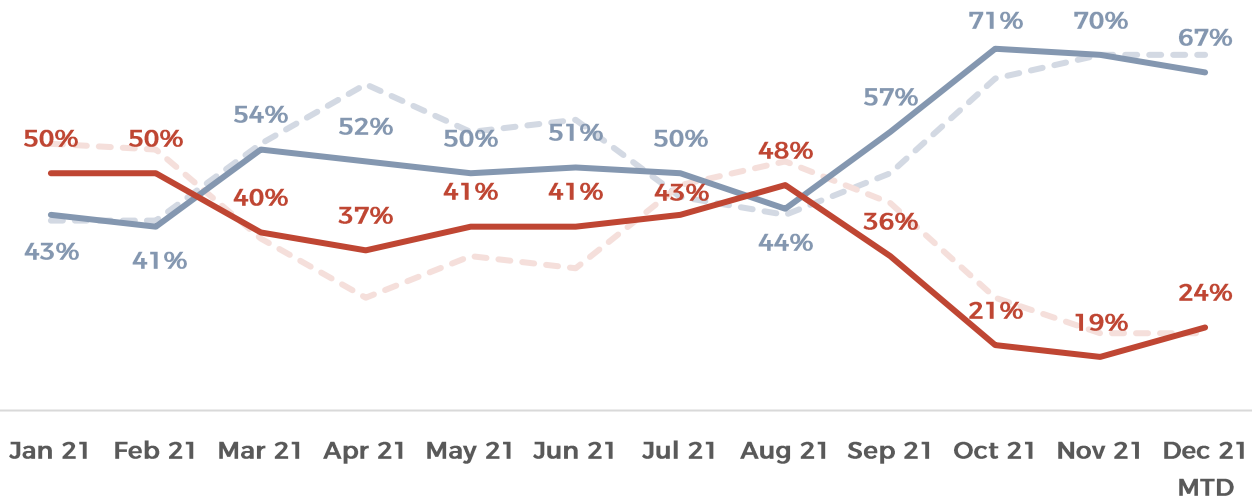

...but parallel results in Australia suggest that support may soften a little in the coming weeks, should Omicron escape MIQ.

Support the reopening of the international border with/without health measures in place (AU residents)
(Dashed line represents NZ residents)

Don't support the reopening of the international border (AU residents)
(Dashed line represents NZ residents)

Source: Angus & Associates' Visitor Insights Programme. The proportion responding 'don't know/not sure' is not shown. The sample of n=3,057 New Zealand residents and n=2,451 Australian residents is population representative. For more information, visit angusassociates.co.nz/insights